Hint and Tip Number 14: The Benefits Of A Towel Warmer

February 22nd, 2018

There are many benefits for having a towel warmer in your bathroom but today we're just going to mention three.

They Help You Feel Relaxed Even More After Taking A Bath Or Shower

The biggest, and most obvious, benefit to owning a towel warmer are warm towels and robes. It makes every bath or shower a spa like experience. Rather than stepping out of the steaming hot shower or warm and calming bath only to be shocked by the chill of the bathroom, you get to keep that warm and relaxed feeling as you dry off and prepare yourself for the day. Dry yourself with a warm towel and then cocoon yourself in a soft, toasty robe or shock yourself with the chilled tile are you dry yourself off as quickly as you can? It hardly seems like a choice.

They Help You Get Rid Of Damp Towels Forever

Not only does a towel warmer heat your towels before your shower or bath, it also dries them afterward. You will never need to smell mildewed towels again. No more damp towels hanging on the wall or piled into the hamper, unleashing that awful smell. The heating element will dry them in record time and ensure that your towels are always smelling fresh and ready to go. No muss, no fuss.

No More Cold Tiles

Many towel warmers come with the secondary benefit of warming the entire bathroom in addition to the towels. Instead of keeping a heater in the bathroom, which serves only one function and gets in the way, your towel warmer can pull double (triple?) duty. No more stepping off the rug and onto the chilly tile or mad dash from the bathroom to the bedroom. Everything is at the perfect temperature—warm and welcoming—making the perfect sanctuary. Contact Thomas Edison Electric today to install a towel warmer in your bathroom(s).
