Hint and Tip Number 38: Why Does It Matter Part Two

August 13th, 2018

Whoever you choose to service your home should be a qualified, trustable individual.

A clear sign of who is the right person for the job is by seeing who is licensed. Below you can find the reasons why it matters

Testing and Certification

There's a reason licensed contractors are required to learn the trade and pass the test. Allowing an unqualified, inexperienced contractor to do any type on your home is a major risk.

Contractors lacking qualifications will probably deliver very low quality work.

Criminal Backgrounds And Scams

Unlicensed contractors may have criminal backgrounds, which include fraud and theft.

What happens if you pay a contractor who never comes back to do the service? Save yourself the worry, hire Thomas Edison Electric today.
